

Who Should Be a Member?

The Boise Angel Alliance is a member-organized, member-supported community of angel investors.

1. Are you interested in learning how to be a better angel investor in a community where best practices are shared and discussed, and investor education is provided?
2. Are you looking for an opportunity to give back to the community by supporting early stage startups within the southwest Idaho ecosystem?
3. Do you meet the Securities and Exchange Commission's (SEC) definition of an accredited investor?
4. Are you willing and able to commit some of your time, talent, and experience to support the Boise Angel Alliance?

Membership Information

Value of Membership

1. Investor Education –

- a. Formal – The BAA provides members with a range of professional classroom education opportunities. Prior to monthly meetings, the BAA offers hour-long classroom-based educational seminars on issues of interest to investors. Subjects include: cap tables, due diligence, tax implications, current and future SEC regulations, etc.
 - b. Participatory – BAA members also have the opportunity to learn more about angel investing and increase their knowledge of other industries through participation in a variety of committees and activities. Participation in Due Diligence, Screening, Co-Investment, or Portfolio Committees provide member investors with hands-on educational opportunities, unavailable to individual angel investors.
 - c. Experiential – Finally, the BAA provides angel investors, either through participation in a BAA supported fund, or as side-by-side member investors, the ultimate experiential opportunity of making and managing investments across a range of local startup and early stage companies.
2. Reduced Investment Risk – By its nature, angel investing is high risk, focusing on startup and early stage companies that are unproven and often pre-revenue. BAA members mitigate this risk through opportunities to invest in a diverse array of companies as part of a BAA sponsored angel fund or as individual side-by-side investors through access to BAA developed due diligence reports.
 3. Network – BAA offers members with unique access to a diverse network of fellow angel investors, entrepreneurs, service providers, and partner startup ecosystem support organizations.

What does BAA membership cost?

Individual members pay an annual membership fee of $500. Members of BAA supported Angel funds are automatically considered members of the BAA.

What is the BAA membership process?

1. Complete and submit the BAA membership application form
2. Complete and submit the BAA accredited investor questionnaire
3. Meet with a member of the BAA Board to discuss BAA membership and answer your questions in person
4. Read, sign that you agree to abide by, and submit the BAA Code of Conduct
5. Be approved for membership by the BAA Board.
